Welcome to the Clark University Guest Network.

This guest network provides limited access (as noted below) to the Internet and certain Clark resources to campus visitors. If you have a Clark Account, you should connect to the wireless network ClarkWiFi or eduroam which will provide access to all Clark resources (additional details about wireless for Clark Account holders can be found at <http://www.clarku.edu/wireless>).

Use of the guest network is governed by the Clark University Guest Network Appropriate Use Policy. By logging into this network via social media credentials or by passcode you agree to abide by the Guest Network Appropriate Use Policy. If you have problems using this form, please close and relaunch your web browser.

Access the Clark University Guest Network using one of the providers below.

Please note, depending on settings of your home school, Google Apps for Education accounts may not allow you to authenticate using this guest form. Please use another method.
